TEN THOUSAND BALE INCREASE IN COTTON CROP

CAMERON MAY SECURE COMMERCIAL GAS SUPPLY

GAS FROM FUEL OIL IS A POSSIBILITY FOR CITY

COMMERCIAL CLUB HAS UNDER ADVISEMENT PROCESS TO MAKE COMMERCIAL GAS

Gas for domestic and commercial purposes manufactured from fuel oil is a possibility for Cameron now that the commercial club has taken the matter under advisement.

F. S. Lesovsky is chairman of the home industry and factory committee to which the matter has been referred for investigation. With abundance of crude oil taken from the Cameron-Minerva field and a large supply of fuel oil after the refined products have been taken out, supply of gas would be adequate for all needs if facilities are set to manufacture it.

Gas for domestic and commercial use has been manufactured and supplied successfully for many years in other sections of America.

No public utility with the possible exception of electricity approaches the value of gas and a public utility that can supply gas is a big asset to any city and is eagerly sought everywhere.

This matter will be given every possible consideration and it is not unlikely the city will hear more of this project in the near future.

WRITING CONTEST WILL ATTRACT LOCAL PUPILS

"NATIONAL SAFETY" CONTEST ENTERED BY PUPILS OF CAMERON SCHOOLS.

A lively interest is being shown by the teachers and pupils of the ward school in the 1923 National Safety Campaign, which is now in progress among the schools of America.

This campaign is conducted each year under the auspices of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce and the Highway Education Board, and has as its object the development of safety habits which will tend to reduce the number of accidents on public highways and thoroughfares.

The movement has the sanction of the National Bureau of Education and of Departments of Education of the several States. As a part of the campaign here, students of grades below the eighth will participate in an essay writing contest on the subject "Highway Safety Habits I Should Learn."

A gold watch and a trip to Washington will be awarded to the winner of the National Contest, while in each of the states first place will be awarded a gold medal and $15.00. The winner of second place will be given a silver medal and $10.00, while 18 third prizes consisting of a bronze medal and $5 each will be given.

Another phase of the contest is open to all elementary teachers, and consists in the preparation of a lesson project on the subject "Training Children in Habits of Safety on the Highways." Prizes in this contest are as follows: First, $500 and a trip to Washington; second, $300, third $200.

The contest closes on Dec. 4. The local campaign is under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Robins, teacher of English in the intermediate grades.

CAMERON MAIL ROBBERY YET UNSOLVED MYSTERY

OFFICERS MAKE TWO ARRESTS BUT NO LIGHT IS SHED ON TAKING OF LOCK POUCH.

Two arrests have been made by City Marshal Lucas assisted by special officer McKay for the Santa Fe railroad in connection with the investigation of the theft of a locked mail pouch here on last Saturday night.

The men held were arrested on a warrant issued by the county in connection with the theft of a suit case from the train at Buckholts and one of the men is said to have confessed to theft of the suit-case but so far no definite light has been shed upon the mysterious disappearance of the locked mail pouch said to contain securities valued at approximately $26,000.

Of the registered mail taken about $5,000 was in securities that need no endorsement and may be used anywhere by those who took the sack. Contained in the sack were checks and drafts issued by the Citizens National Bank, checks by the Robt. McLane Company and cotton receipts by A. N. Weems, ginner and cotton buyer.

Immediately after the theft was detected Mrs. Bessie Hefley, postmistress was notified and clerks at the office were called to aid in the investigation. The sack was missed at 2 a. m. Sunday when Edwin Dusek sought the mail for No. 18 passenger mail train and found that the bag was missing.

Officers were notified and special officer for the railroad, McKay, came from Temple and in conjunction with Marshal Lucas and Deputy Sheriff N. O. Kennedy, the search was begun.

W. T. Massengale, driver of the wagon, says he placed the two locked pouches in the mail room a little after nine o'clock. One of the mail sacks locked was found where Mr. Massengale had placed it in the mail room but the other, and the one containing the securities was missing.

A door at the room was found to be unlocked although the lock had been snapped in the staple.

Mr. Massengale has been driving the mail wagon for many years and is positive about the placing of the bags in the mail room, carrying them in first because they were locked pouches and contained first class mail.

No losses are anticipated as a result of the robbery because all banks have been notified of the theft and a close watch is being kept for presentation of the checks and drafts. If the drafts are taken north and east and presented the banks will be protected by the detective agencies to which they are subscribers.

W. A. Lewis and Ed. Blackmon, farmers from the Milano community, accompanied by Alfred Blackmon, were business visitors in Cameron Tuesday. Young Blackmon was carrying his arm in a sling having had this member broken by a kick from a horse.

ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CAMERON

AMERICAN LEGION WILL TAKE LEAD IN ARRANGING FOR CELEBRATION.

Monday November 12 will be observed in Cameron as Armistice Day and the American Legion in conjunction with the Yoe High school will arrange the program.

T. S. Henderson, Jr., of the American Legion announces that the services at the school will be held between 9 and 10 o'clock and the legion members will gather at the hall and march to the school building for the exercises. After that the legion boys will return to the hall for a social hour and handshaking.

The big event of the day will be the base ball game between Cameron and Rockdale played on the Cameron field.

The matter of the celebration will be laid before the commercial club Friday night to get the co-operation of the club in defraying the expenses of the celebration.

The program in detail for the Armistice Day celebration will be prepared and published next week.

BETTER LIGHTING FOR CITY IS NOW ASSURED

MERCHANTS SUBSCRIBE FOR LIGHTS AND CITY TO AID IN WHITE WAY.

Better lighting for the business district of Cameron with the merchants subscribing for an maintaining lights is now assured.

This week T. S. Henderson, Jr., chairman of the civic improvement committee from the Commercial Club and Giles L. Avriett, made a canvass and sold the merchants on one block running from the Palace of Sweets to the Auditorium hotel and from the J. D. Dabbins grocery to the Triggs Dry Goods Company corner. The city will co-operate to the extent of installing and maintaining six of the lights.

The completion of this block is to be followed up by lights in other sections of the business district and this will be done in the near future.

Better lighting is one of the crying needs of Cameron. These lights are to be placed on the awnings of the stores so as to light up the store fronts as well as the streets opposite.

DAMAGE IS HEAVY FROM HALLOWE'EN VALDALISM

CITY STREET COMMISSIONER REPORTS $200 DAMAGE TO BRIDGES.

Damage estimated at $200 is reported by C. R. Phillips of the street committee for the city as a result of Halloween vandalism on the part of mischievous boys Wednesday night.

Other losses in property damage will amount to a great deal but it is impossible at this time to estimate the damage.

From early evening the boys in great throngs crowded the streets and began their work of piling up boxes and in some cases automobiles were run on the sidewalks.

Practically every foot bridge in the city was taken up and in many cases were totally destroyed. Twenty-six bridges were reported destroyed by the street men at noon Thursday. The city is going about to replace these bridges but feels that in the future it will take precautions to prevent such pillage.

No other damage has been reported and no one was reported killed or wounded in the street battles that waged into the night.

LIONS CLUB WILL ASSIST IN CONFERENCE DETAILS.

The Lions Club voted Tuesday to co-operate in every way with the Methodist church in entertaining the hundreds of delegates to the Texas Conference which convenes here on November 20.

At a meeting Tuesday night of the directors of the club the following entertainment committee was appointed: T. S. Henderson, Jr., chairman; J. W. Coleman and C. W. Read.

16 HOUR SERVICE ON FREIGHT FROM HOUSTON

SANTA FE WILL IMPROVE SERVICE TO CAMERON FROM PORT HOUSTON.

A sixteen hour freight service from Houston over the Santa Fe railroad has been inaugurated and is to be known as the package car service for Cameron.

The car will leave Houston at ten o'clock every night and will reach Cameron at two o'clock the following afternoon, enabling shipments of stuff to be made each day from Houston and received here in good time.

Freight service has been deplorable out of Houston over the Santa Fe and shippers as well as merchants, here will welcome this speed-up program in the handling of freight out of Houston.

The regular schedule will be as above stated and the first car to come from Houston on the new freight service schedule for Cameron arrived in Cameron at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Agent H. C. Keith in co-operation with freight officials have made this service possible.

Joyce Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Cox of this city, is helping to put Cameron on the map at the State University. He has recently been elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa Alpha and the Sigma Phi fraternities, an honor highly praised by under-graduate students. Selection for membership in these fraternities is based on the record and personality of the student. Joyce is one of the best ranking junior students.

1923 FIGURES FOR THIS COUNTY SHOW BIG CROP

49,168 BALES GINNED UP TO OCTOBER 18, MILAM COUNTY REPORT SHOWS.

A ten thousand bale increase in the Milam county cotton crop over the 1922 crop up to October 18 as compared with the same period in 1922, is shown in the report of Basil McGregor of Milano, agent for the department of the federal government.

Predictions were that the county would produce 50,000 bales of cotton. This view was expressed by the Herald in the first crop estimate. Indications are now that the county will produce near 60,000 bales which will be above normal.

The fact that such a large increase is shown coupled with the big margin of price increase over last year, will bring prosperous conditions to the county such as never before in the history of the cotton industry.

The bulk of the crop has sold for around 30 cents per pound and all of the cotton is out of the hands of the farmers. The report is as follows:

"There were 49,168 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Milam County, from the crop of 1923 prior to Oct. 18, 1923, as compared with 39,795 bales ginned to Oct. 18, 1922."

Special Agent Cotton Milam County."

JURY FAILS TO AGREE IN THE TRIAL OF ED BEARD

JURY DISMISSED BY JUDGE WATSON AFTER TWO DAYS CONSIDERING VERDICT.

As printed in the Herald last week the case of Ed. Beard, former constable at Thorndale, charged by indictment with the murder of Robert Caffey at Thorndale last September, was given to the jury at nightfall after argument had been concluded by District Attorney Jack Lewis.

The jury after staying out for two days and one night failed to agree and was dismissed on Saturday afternoon by Judge John Watson after all hopes had been abandoned for an agreement. The Jury count stood nine for conviction for murder and three for conviction for manslaughter and a suspended sentence.

The case consumed the entire week and hundreds of people crowded the court rooms each day to hear the evidence.

The case will have to be tried again in the district court here unless a change of venue is asked and granted.

Beard was defended in the trial by Chambers, Wallace and Gillis and prosecuted by District Attorney Jack Lewis and E. A. Camp of Rockdale.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CAMERON.

As secretary of the Commercial Club I wish to call the attention of the people of Cameron to the approaching annual Conference of the Methodist church, beginning Nov. 20th. The Methodist people will need the help of our citizens in entertaining this great gathering and I am sure Cameron, with its fine spirit of hospitality and generosity, will not fail to meet the situation admirably. Get in touch with the Entertainment Committee of the church and tell them how many delegates you can take care of.

One who has never attended an Annual Conference can not appreciate the tremendous influence for good it is in the life of a community to entertain such a fine body of Christian people.

Cameron Commercial Club.

Court House news

SEEK RULING OF COURT ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

HENRY ROSENTHAL PLEADS GUILTY AND TAKES APPEAL. ALLEGING DISCRIMINATION.

For the purpose of getting a ruling from the court of criminal appeals on the suspended sentence law and alleging the law discriminates against persons over 21 years old in liquor cases, Henry Rosenthal, entered a plea of guilty in the district court and was given one year sentence. He appealed his case for a test of the law.

As the law now appears suspended sentence can only be given to defendants under 21 years of age. All persons over 21 years of age convicted of violations of the liquor laws cannot receive a suspended sentence.

This case will be watched with interest from all sections of Texas and if it is held that the law discriminates, in all probability the law will have to be changed or repealed, or ignored. In this event it might also affect many now serving in the penitentiary for liquor law violations.

If this develops a flaw in the law two weak points will have been discovered, the other being that a person may manufacture liquor for medicinal purposes and there is no law against it.

So far this is the only case ever sent up to test the validity of the suspended sentence law on this point.

The Past and the Present

In the Past our ancestors were content to use the candle with its dim, flickering rays.

In the Present (Today) we are privileged to use the steady, brilliant Electric light—the product of Science.

In the Past thousands of people went thru life suffering from ailments that seemed to be incurable.

In the Present (Today) thousands of people are finding out that these same ailments yield readily to CHIROPRACTIC—the modern scientific method of removing the cause of Dis-ease.

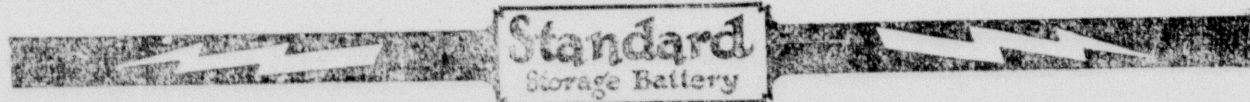

In the Past, the idea, a mistaken one, was to try and cure the effect without making any effort to find the CAUSE.

In the Present (Today) the SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC strikes right at the root of the matter, adjusts the cause and Nature, the Great Healer, is given the opportunity to make the cure. Nature never fails in this task.

If anything goes wrong with the Electric Light system of your town the TROUBLE MAN employed by the company is immediately sent for. He locates the cause of the trouble and adjusts it. The Chiropractor is your Health TROUBLE MAN. If you are ailing send for him. He, too, will locate the cause of your trouble and at once adjust it.

THE BASELESS FEAR OF FINANCE'S POWER

By WALTER W. HEAD

President American Bankers Association.

We speak of "coal"; immediately we visualize a pile of black lumps. We speak of "wheat"; in our mind we picture a golden field of grain or perhaps the farmer's load en route to market.

Finance is not a commodity. Being an intangible thing, it is greatly misunderstood. It means one thing to some people, another to others.

By reason of this mystery surrounding it, it is too frequently feared, and financiers assailed as enemies of the public good, using their power selfishly to advance their own purposes.

No nation or people ever achieved greatness without the assistance of finance.—accumulated capital, managed and directed by those skilled in the handling of wealth and money. Accumulated resources are represented at times by herds of gold, but more frequently by ships, herds, and other productive agencies.

America measures her resources in terms of billions of dollars. She has thousands of prosperous homes, myriads of well developed villages and towns, thousands of miles of railroads and paved roads. This has been possible through the investment and use of capital or wealth created and accumulated by the citizens.

When the early pioneers first traveled over the prairies, which are now rich and productive fields, their resources consisted only of a productive soil, a healthful climate, and the sunshine and rain necessary to the growth of vegetation.

As the early settlers wrought and produced and prospered, they saved. These savings they invested in the tools of production—plows, harrows, binders, stores, railroads, banks and manufacturing enterprises. THESE SAVINGS "FINANCED" PROGRESS. The building of the railroads was the great outstanding contribution of finance to the development of the West. The West owes a debt of gratitude to the investors in eastern states who ventured to invest their money in virgin territory, making possible development by the use of their accumulated resources.

Bank deposits represent very largely the savings of the people. The loans they make possible are employed in productive enterprises. The development of the agricultural communities depends very largely upon the credits extended by investors in other communities. The development of municipalities is possible very largely through the sale of municipal bonds to investors in other places. All this is the work of finance.

WAGES HERE AND ABROAD

THE American factory worker is receiving wages the purchasing power of which is above the wages paid in any other country of the world. The British Ministry of Labor has made a computation of the amount of food which the wages of workers in different cities of the world will purchase. In the following table the purchasing power of wages in London is taken as 100, and the purchasing power of wages in other cities is shown as percentages of this figure. The table indicates that the worker in New York can buy more than twice as much food with his wages than can the worker in Berlin or Vienna can buy only a little more than half as much with his daily wage as the worker in London, or only one-fourth as much as the worker in New York.

New York	217

London	100
Christiana	92

Brussels	70

An important factor in the differences between the rewards of workers is that the productivity of the American worker has been greatly increased through the use of large investments of capital for machinery.—Journal of the American Bankers Association.

GOV. PINCHOT GOES TO BAT.

In his address before the Citizenship Conference in Washington, Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania, hit hard and far. He said:

"Not only has the political hamstringing of the federal enforcement service had its seat in Washington, but it is notorious that disobedience to the eighteenth amendment has been flagrant in the capital city. Stories are innumerable of the active practice and encouragement of law breaking by officials high in the government of the United States. We cannot expect other communities to respect and obey the law if the capital of the nation itself is a leader among law breakers. Washington has set the bad example, and it is for Washington to repair the damage."

Pinchot's speech, in which he put responsibility for lax enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Act up to Coolidge personally, contained these other high-lights: "Two facts stand out in the confused and troubled prohibition enforcement situation of today. One is the steadily increasing determination of decent people to have the law enforced. The other is the steadily increasing violation of the law by the criminal elements. The former was to be expected."

"The Eighteenth Amendment has been betrayed in the house of its friends. Measured by the respect accorded to it, it has failed, and the reason is that no sincere, intelligent, and concerted nation-wide effort has ever been made to enforce it."

VALUE OF GOOD ROADS.

An insignificant news item which attracted no attention, tells the tale of schools in a county in a Northern State, closed because of the need of children in the potato fields.

Another equally insignificant news item tells of a county which rejected a plan for a bond issue, the proceeds of which were to improve county roads.

Taken together the two items are far from insignificant. Of our nearly three million miles of roads, barely ten per cent are improved. The other ninety per cent are bad at the best and impossible in the winter. Hauling over them is precarious, expensive, a slow process. Crops must be marketed; to sell crops they must be moved. The more expensive the moving, the less the profit; the less the profit, the less money for public improvement, the less for hire of farm labor, the more the necessity to use that labor which is not hired, the children.

There is a very intimate connection between good roads everywhere and education. Indeed, there is hardly a subject, an industry, a plan, an activity into which roads do not enter somewhere. But rural education is bound up in good roads. Where roads are good, children can get to school. Where roads are poor, children are poor. Not all poor roads run through illiterate sections, of course, but all illiterate sections of the Nation are supplied only with poor roads! Where the roads are good, the schools good, the farmers prosperous, schools do not close to harvest a potato crop, or any other crop!

When you vote on a good roads question, remember the children!

THE BEANS ARE SPILLED.

The thing that is the matter with prohibition enforcement is not an indefinite or intangible perplexity. Here are the things that are the matter:

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair, Assistant Commissioner of Prohibition Jones, plus a large number of appointees named solely with regard to pleasing political leaders.

Mr. Mellon, however fit a Secretary of the Treasury he may be, should not have the responsibility for prohibition enforcement. Neither by conviction nor inclination is he fitted for that responsibility.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair knows politics, but prohibition enforcement is not in the sphere of politics and particularly of petty politics.

Assistant Commissioner of Prohibition Jones has seemingly been running the Prohibition Unit for some time. If Mr. Haynes at present has any influence with Mr. Jones or with certain others in the Prohibition Unit, it is not at the present time perceptible to the naked eye. Seemingly Jones and the Blair group in the Unit are running things to suit themselves, absolutely reporting only to Blair.

Haynes is an honest man and a man of ability. He is a sincere prohibitionist and if permitted could do the country a service. He is not being permitted.

Permits to withdraw liquor have been issued which should not have been issued. Permits to withdraw liquor have been issued to men who afterward violated the law in handling those liquors and when the permits were issued there was every reason for suspecting that these men would violate the law.

What could the men in the Unit who opposed the issuing of these permits do? The best they could do has had about as much effect as yelling down a rain barrel.

Officers who have done good service in prohibition enforcement have had it demonstrated to them that their record of service was, to say the least, not an asset to them.

The thing has been checked up to President Coolidge. He is an honest man. He wants to see the law enforced. The time has come for him to it personally. There are several things he could do.

1. He could favor the creation of the Prohibition Unit as a separate bureau; with a real Prohibitionist having real power at the head of it; one who can be held responsible for results.

2. Or he could replace the present Commissioner of Internal Revenue with a fighting Prohibitionist; the new Commissioner and Haynes reconstruct the Unit, cleansing it of politics and of worse, if worse should be discovered.

3. He could come out flatfooted in support of the prohibition law, not "just because it is the law," but because prohibition is an American policy now, henceforth and forever, the policy of a prohibition country over which floats a prohibition flag, a policy which has vindicated itself despite the assaults of semi-treasonable forces.

4. He could pass the word down the line to the American people from the highest to the lowliest that the government is determined to enforce this law, that it means business, that it will be enforced no matter how prominent the offender, that it will be enforced on Broadway and in the distant hollows of remote mountains. He can demand from foreign nations which claim to be friendly to the American people a decent regard for our vital interests.

No President in modern times has had a greater opportunity than Mr. Calvin Coolidge. He can send his name ringing down the halls of history. The American people await only leadership and a call.

But, the President cannot be saddled with the entire burden. It must be remembered that governors have all the power of the President in regard to this matter.

MRS. RACHAEL COHEN.

Mrs. Rachael Cohen, Cameron's oldest Jewish resident, died at her home in this city Saturday afternoon, October 26 at 4 o'clock, after an illness which extended over a period of several months.

Mrs. Cohen was born in Germany but came to this country when a child of tender years. She grew up in New York City and has always been a loyal, hard working, self sustaining American. She was married in New York to Michael Cohen but the young couple moved immediately to Texas and made their home in Houston for many years. They moved to Cameron thirty-five years ago and engaged in a general merchandising business. Mrs. Cohen was a faithful helpmeet and assisted materially in building up a good business which the firm still enjoys. She was a kind hearted woman, always a friend to the poor and needy, and many a package was quietly slipped into the baskets of her needy customers for which no charge was ever made.

After she advanced in years and her children relieved her of active business cares, it was a familiar sight to see her seated in her rocking chair in front of her place of business ready with a friendly greeting and a word of cheer for all who passed.

She raised a family of eight children, five daughters and three sons. Four of these children live in Cameron three being in the home with her. Her youngest daughter, Miss Julia, was her devoted nurse during her long illness and won the admiration of all observers by her faithful ministrations to her mother, always ably assisted by her two brothers, Louis and Abe, and by her widowed sister, Mrs. Sarah Lowenstein.

The body, after being tenderly prepared for burial by the hands of friends, was carried to Houston and laid to rest beside her husband who preceded her thirteen years ago. The funeral service was conducted from the Sid Westheimer Undertaking Chapel. Rabbi H. Barshstein officiating. The chapel was filled with sympathetic friends, the deceased being well known to the older residents of the city. Many beautiful flowers were sent, many being from Cameron friends. The pall bearers were: Noel L. Jacobs, Joel Romangley, M. D. Cohen, J. H. Keller, Sam Tires and Eli Fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hefley, W. J. Dordland Will Hare accompanied the family from Cameron and they were met there by Mr. and Mrs. Schromerus of Iola, Kansas, Mrs. Schromerus being one of the five daughters. The other son, Charmer Cohen, and wife of Belton were also in the party. The two other daughters, Mesdames Eva Egal and Mary Cahen, live in San Francisco and were unable to be present.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank our friends who were so kind to our husband and father, Mr. J. A. Huffman, during his last illness and for the many beautiful flowers.

FARMER-BANKER MEETING NOTES

A recent farmer-banker conference, held at Fargo, North Dakota, as one of a series being held under the auspices of the Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, to aid in developing permanently better agricultural conditions, was productive of a number of valuable and definite measures for a program of action.

Reduction of wheat acreage: It was recommended that the farmers reduce acreage 30 per cent from that of 1923.

Diversified farming: The conference declared that the ultimate success of agriculture depends upon proper diversification.

Orderly marketing: Financial support was approved to assist the orderly marketing of farm products.

Encourage Homeseekers: Support was pledged to all movements designed to encourage home seekers.

Recommendations for immediate relief: Bankers and business men were urged to assist in providing storage facilities at once to meet the needs of their home communities. The bankers were urged to accept storage certificates for loans on the stored grain and if their reserves prevented them from carrying the storage certificates it was urged that the Intermediate Credit Banks be asked to discount these certificates for the banks.

Resolutions looking toward legislative relief were adopted, and a special committee appointed to follow them up. The resolutions were as follows:

Calling for the establishment of some governmental agency as an emergency measure for orderly marketing and selling separately the exportable wheat surplus;

Protesting against the drawback provision in the Fordney-McCumber law and urging the enactment of that in the Dingley law, the Payne law and the Underwood law;

Opposing the reduction of the tariff on flax seed of flax products or feeder cattle.

MERCHANT CREDIT EXPENSIVE

Investigations indicate that farmers may be materially benefited by demonstrating to them the losses they incur through the use of merchant credit instead of bank credit. In conferences arranged by the Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association, it has frequently developed that farmers in many instances are thoughtlessly carrying heavy burdens of mercantile credit.

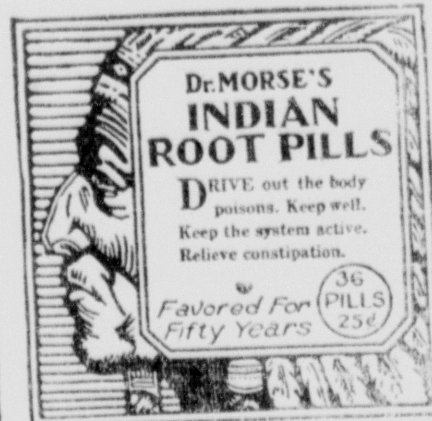

The cost to farmers of merchant credit often runs as high as 50 per cent annually. The United States Department of Agriculture has made surveys of credit and insurance conditions in North Carolina, in which eight hundred farmers were interviewed, and which showed that 433 were relying on merchant credit. The average cost was 26.6 per cent, figured annually. The average rate paid by white farmers was 21.8 per cent, while that for the colored was 32.2 per cent. This difference is attributed to the smaller average amount of credit used by the colored farmers, the greater risk involved in credit to them and to an inclination to take advantage of the less fortunate class.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies Are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

(From the files of the Herald)

Sam Houston has accepted a position with Sprinkel, Cochran and Company, beginning Nov. 1, and will remain there permanently. Mr. Houston has been behind the counters in Cameron for many years and knows all the people within our city's trade territory. He is deservedly popular and knows how to please the trade.

Mrs. Jennie Roberts visited Dallas last week, attended the Fair and purchased a large stock of fall millinery.

Justice J. B. Newton of Milano was attending to business in Cameron on Friday of last week.

Mrs. T. S. Henderson visited the Dallas Fair last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper Sansom of Georgetown returned home on Friday of last week from a pleasant visit of a few days to relatives.

Next Monday afternoon, beginning at 5 o'clock and ending at 12, there will be a splendid entertainment and a sumptuous repast served at the new Hefley brick building, the same being under the auspices of the Ladies Cemetery Association.

Sunday October 20, was a memorable day to the Clarkson people, they having completed and paid for their new Baptist church, it was dedicated with befitting ceremonies. The church has a seating capacity of 250 and cost $1100 with a reported surplus of fifteen cents. Dr. Burleson was to have preached the dedicatory sermon but failed to arrive. Rev. Glazner preached in the forenoon to a large audience and Rev. Herrington, after a sumptuous dinner, occupied the pulpit. Rev. White is pastor of the church and has been for five years. The Sunday school is conducted by B. F. Taylor. The deacons report Cameron giving $120.

Pay your subscription to the Herald. Remember that each issue represents a cash outlay and that it is an accommodation to carry you over until fall. We have more than $2000 due us on subscriptions, the money is needed by us and it ought to be paid.

Next Monday the criminal docket will be taken up in the district court. The Crow case has been set for next Monday Nov. 5, and the McCray case for November 20. These are important cases.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

Rev. F. D. Dawson arrived in Thorndale Sunday morning and began the Sunday School Institute at the Methodist church as announced in our last issue. He was heartily received by Thorndale people, many of whom remember him and the very pleasant relationship between them as members and he is as pastor of the Methodist church here about seventeen years ago, and all who knew him then whether members of his church or not seem to love him now as much as they respected him then.

Rev. Dawson was just beginning his ministry at the time and he has since developed into a great and forceful gospel preacher and has now even greater distinction as a Sunday school man and director of institute work. He was appointed by the last annual conference of the Methodist church as field man and he devotes his entire time to conducting Sunday School Institutes over the district.

The eleven o'clock service Sunday morning was well attended and Bro. Dawson used for his subject "The Relationship of Children to the church," and it was a masterly effort well executed. His discourse

Sunday evening on the "Teaching Functions of the Church," was extra good and sounded the death knell to the popular but erroneous conception of the responsibilities of the Christian life and the preparation necessary to enable one to live the life as it is defined by the scripture. Br. Dawson is doing a wonderful helpful work and the Lord is blessing his efforts wherever he goes. The institute closed with Wednesday evening's service—Thorndale Champion.

C. W. L. Schaeg, Secretary and Treasurer of the Cameron Mutual Life Insurance Association, with headquarters at Cameron, was here last Friday on business for the association. We learn from Mr. Schaeg that the association now has 1000 members and rapidly headed for the Maximum which is 2,000. At the time of his former visit here, in the spring of this year, the association had only about three hundred members but Mr. Schaeg assured his friends here at that time that he would build up a membership of at least 1000 by the end of the year, and he has made good in this respect. He has done good work and now has an association offering them as safe insurance as the honor of men can provide and at a minimum expense to the insured. —Thorndale Champion.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.

CAMP-JACKSON WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Camp gave their daughter Isabel in marriage to Rey Jackson yesterday evening at six o'clock at their beautiful country home near San Gabriel, in a ceremony distinguished by its artistry of setting and beauty of costuming.

The home was lavishly decorated with ever-green. The entire stairway being almost completely concealed with it and white roses and chrysanthemum. The reception rooms were decorated likewise, one wall being completely covered with ever-green, white roses and chrysanthemums. In front of this an elaborate altar was erected.

On a mantle near the altar thirty-six candles were arranged in a beautiful manner, these were lit just before the ceremony by Miss Majorie Amason of Austin.

Before the entrance of the procession Mrs. Triggs of Cameron sang "Because" with Miss Amason accompanying. At the first chords of "Lohengrin" the ushers, Merie and Felton Camp, brother and cousin of the bride, advanced up to the altar. Following them were the bridesmaids, Misses Lucile Camp, cousin of the bride, Lois Camp, sister of the bride and Blossom Wooten of Austin, next came the Matron of Honor, Mrs. Neal Leachman of Dallas, sister of the bride.

In their gowns of the delicate color of orchid the bridesmaids and the Matron of Honor made a beautiful picture as they entered in the soft glow of the candle light, all wore picture hats of orchid and carried elaborate bouquets of orchid chrysanthemums. Miss Amason was quite charming in peach with an elaborate bouquet of chrysanthemums that matched her dress perfectly.

The bride entered with her father, H. H. Camp, and was met before the altar by the bridegroom who had entered with the bestman, Mr. Margis Jones Davis, of Fort Worth, formerly room mate with the groom at the State University. The wedding gown was of clinging crepe over satin. The veil was caught with orange blossoms and the bouquet was a bridal shower of white bride roses.

A reception for the friends of the bride and groom followed the ceremony.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left for their honeymoon keeping their own counsel as to their destination and the duration of their stay.

Mrs. Jackson is one of the most popular young ladies of this vicinity, is a graduate of the State University at Austin and taught last year in the Cameron High school. She is widely known for her sweet personality and has a host of friends in practically every part of the State.

Mr. Jackson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of Fort Worth. He is assistant chief chemist of Magnolia Petroleum Company at Beaumont, and also a graduate of the University.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were recipients of many useful and elaborate gifts.—Taylor Press.

REAVES-RUDI.

A wedding of unusual interest to a wide circle of friends of both parties was that which took place last Sunday evening at six o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Im. Rudi, when their eldest daughter, Miss Sidonia Rudi was united in marriage to Mr. Herman M. Reaves of this place. Rev. F. H. Stelzer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Thorndale read the ceremony which joined the young couple in wedlock.

The home was most artistically and beautifully decorated in a color scheme of white and pink with numerous pot plants and cut flowers with lighted candles protruding from the plants which lent an air of fragrance to the occasion. The young couple were attended by Misses Mary Reaves, sister of the groom and Louise Miertschin, who stood on either side of the young couple while the impressive ceremony was read. The bride was most beautifully dressed in a gown of brown charmeuse, and presented a most charming appearance.

Following the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining room where a table was laid with several kinds of cake and sandwiches with coffee and fruit punch.

The bride is one of Thorndale's most popular young ladies and a member of Thorndale's younger society set. Her friends are numbered by all who have the pleasure of her acquaintance. Miss Rudi was employed in the office of the Smith Motor Company at Taylor sometime prior to her marriage.

The groom is a valued employee of the Thorndale Auto Company and is a young man of many sterling qualities and character having resided here all his life and is held in the very highest esteem.

Mr. and Mrs. Reaves will have rooms with Miss Sallie Beesley where they will be at home to their many friends.

Out of town guests for the wedding included: Misses Alma and Ella Miller, Helga Engstrom, Leslie McDowell and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Puryear all of Taylor, Thorndale Champion.

CUNNINGHAM-GILL.

At the high-noon hour Wednesday, October 24th, the marriage of Miss Pauline Gill and Russell D. Cunningham was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. F. Gill, by Rev. C. D. Montgomery of the First Methodist church, in the presence of a small company of intimate friends.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride and groom, and her parents motored to Wichita Falls, where a family dinner was enjoyed, after which Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left for Fort Worth and Dallas for a brief honeymoon season, when they will return to their home in this city in West College street.

The marriage Wednesday was marked by a simple elegance throughout. The home decorations included clusters of chrysanthemums, pink and white carnations, which formed a pretty setting for the dark, rich traveling attire of the bridal couple.

The occasion has been one of much interest in the social, church and business circles of the city, in which both parties have many admiring friends.

The bride is a refined, cultured young woman, a graduate of the Texas University with a Phi Beta Kappa honors; and since coming to Burkburnett has won many friends by her lovable temperament and co-operation in the city's church, social and business life. In the latter, she served, during the past year, on the postoffice force, where the public in general became her friends.

Mr. Cunningham is one of the leading citizens of Burkburnett. He has done much toward the uplift and reconstruction of the community, since coming here four years ago on his return from France, where he served during the world war, in what was known as the Suicide Division, one of the most dangerous sections of the army. He is a highly respected Christian gentleman, holding membership and official position in the church, the Lions Club, Knight of Pythias, American Legion and the Oil Mens' base ball league, of which he was manager during the past season.

As an official of the Magnolia Petroleum company, Mr. Cunningham is an honored and beloved friend, as was verified by an elegant gift for his home at this time, by the employees of the company here, and a few other friends—the gift being a beautiful dining room and sitting room set of furniture. Other marks of friendship in business associates was a handsome art square, matching the furniture and presented by Collier Bros. Many other valuable and appreciated tokens of good will and friendship, have also been received by this popular young couple, during the bridal season, each bearing congratulations and best wishes for a useful, prosperous and happy life.—Burkburnett Star.

PARENT TEACHERS.

For the convenience of both parents and teachers, the Parent Teachers Association has been divided into two sections, one section to embrace the teachers and parents particularly interested in the High school and the other for the Grammar school. This division was decided upon at a meeting of the Association last Wednesday afternoon. In the future, the High school section will meet in the Yoe High Auditorium on the 2nd Wednesday in each month with Miss Amelia Williams as chairman. The Grammar section will meet on the 4th Wednesday in the Grammar Auditorium.

It is the wish of the Association to interest all mothers in these meetings. They invite your help and co-operation.

BUFFET SUPPER IS GIVEN.

Honoring Julian Gillespie, attaché of the American Embassy at Constantinople, who is at home for a visit after two years' service at his post, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McBride entertained with a buffet supper at their home, 5306 Gaston avenue.

The guests were Mr. Gillespie, his mother, Mrs. Ethel Muse Gillespie; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krebs, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tennant, Miss Belle Antony, R. McQuade, Miss Allie Tennant and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McBride, Jr.—Dallas News.

The host and hostess, the honor guest, and three of the other guests mentioned in the above are former Cameron people, making this an interesting item of news.

SOCIAL MEETING OF CHURCH SOCIETY.

Circle 2, Presbyterian church, was hostess to the entire Woman's Auxiliary in a social meeting in the home of Mrs. Giles L. Avriett Monday afternoon from 3 to 5. The house was in Hallowe'en dress and a spirit of fellowship and good cheer pervaded.

The president of the Auxiliary and the three circle chairmen, gave a report of the year's work and an outline of the work in hand with special reference to the Building Fund. These reports gave abundant evidence of real interest.

The mite boxes which had been given out earlier in the year were opened and $38.00 added to the building fund from their contents. As an amusement feature, cars were passed and each lady requested to draw a plan for the new church building. Mrs. Ernest Eggert was decorated with a Hallowe'en hat for submitting the best drawing.

The afternoon's pleasure concluded with the serving of a delightful menu consisting of chicken salad, bread and butter sandwiches, pickles, olives, potato chips, and hot coffee.

SHOWER FOR MISS GILL.

On Friday evening a number of Burkburnett cars motored to the beautiful country home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Clark, four miles west of the city, where Mrs. Clark, assisted by Miss Mary Rigney, entertained with a delightful miscellaneous shower party, naming Miss Pauline Gill, whose marriage to R. S. Cunningham, is announced for October 24, as honoree.

The spacious room was soon filled with merry maids and matrons, who, under the direction of the grateful hostess, spent a jolly season over a unique contest of numbers, names, places, conditions and names of real and imaginary lovers, all of which, when woven into questions and answers, told some queer and curious love stories, veritable fun-making from start to finish.

A second game, fitting to the hour, was the correct placing of two hearts that had been pierced by Dan Cupid's dart; each player being blindfolded during the game. Miss Lilla Majors won the nearest position, and was awarded a pretty china bowl, which was graciously presented to the honoree of the evening. Mrs. R. D. Laney was distinguished by separating these hearts to the farthest margin possible, and was punished by being compelled to accept a big red rose, out of which a snake uncoiled every time she breathed upon it.

Then it was, while the lightning flashed just before the night rains.

URGES BANK ADS IN NEWSPAPERS

Banker Tells National Association They Are Essential Aids to Business Building.

PRESENTS PRACTICAL PLAN

Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association Offers Prepared Newspaper Advertising Service to Cover a Year's Campaign.

More newspaper advertising by banks as a business builder was strongly urged at the recent convention of the American Bankers Association by W. R. Morehouse of the organization's Savings Bank Division. He backed up his plea with definite action to stimulate advertising by savings banks by calling the attention of the members to a prepared newspaper advertising service developed by his division comprising copy to meet their requirements for a year's advertising schedule.

"It is my firm conviction that banks can use newspaper advertising with great success," Mr. Morehouse said. "Newspapers go into the homes—by their use as a medium the people of a whole community may be reached in a single day. Because a bank cannot directly trace a large volume of new business to newspaper advertising does not prove that the medium is ineffective as a business-builder."

"The fact that there are certain kinds of newspaper advertising which do not produce good results ought not to brand the medium as ineffective, any more than the fact that because a certain booklet or certain business building letter fails to pull would warrant you in branding all booklets and all letters as non-productive mediums."

How to Advertise

"Newspaper advertising must be attractive and easily read if it is to produce good results. If the subject presented is not to the point, is too deeply involved for the average mind to grasp readily, is too full of big and uncommon words, it is only natural that it will not be read. If bank advertising is to accomplish its purpose it must be very simple."

"Discuss only the subjects which will make it easy for the public to patronize your bank. Advertise your bank, its financial stability, its officers, directors and stockholders and you will build prestige and strengthen public confidence in your institution. Enumerate the various kinds of service your bank is prepared to render. It has been my experience that the public is on the lookout for information about banks, banking methods and the kinds of service rendered by banks. For quick results I am a firm believer in sticking to subjects which have a direct bearing on banks, banking methods and service, until the public has become better informed about banks and the wide variety of services rendered by them."

A New Plan

"If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising try this plan. Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially enumerate the various services which your bank is prepared to offer. Roll down every advertisement to one hundred words or less, preferably less. Use headings which arouse interest at a glance. For example, a head 'INTEREST FROM DATE' will inspire action on the part of persons with funds to deposit because interest starts from the time savings accounts are opened. A heading 'PROTECTION FOR YOUR VALUABLES' will inspire action on the part of persons in need of protection."

HOW TO CATCH FAKE STOCK SALESMEN

Some state bankers' associations are distributing an investor's questionnaire with the idea of protecting purchasers of securities from fake stock salesmen.

"Whenever you are solicited to purchase stock or other securities, use this questionnaire before investing any of your funds," says one of these. "The questionnaire was compiled to protect the small investor and to emphasize the necessity of investigating thoroughly every investment proposition before placing any money therein. When you have been furnished with the information called for in this questionnaire, take it to any one of the banking institutions in your community and get its opinion of the stock offered. If the stock salesman refuses to fill out this questionnaire, have nothing more to do with his proposition, as it is evident that he is fostering a fraudulent promotion."

The questionnaire pins the salesman down to answering the following questions:

Name of company .....
Name of salesman .....
Kind of stock offered .....
Total issue of stock .....
Stock given for property .....
Stock given for good-will .....
Stock given for patents .....
Are you taking any Liberty Bonds? .....
If so, at what price? .....
Amount of cash needed .....
Fair value of stock .....
Market price of stock in ready market? .....
Has the stock been listed? .....
If so, where is it listed? .....
Is the stock accepted by banks as collateral for loans? .....
If so, what banks have accepted it to your knowledge? .....
What are the present net earnings? .....
Bank references .....
Names of officers .....
Former occupation .....

Mr. Clark, the "weather man," all bedecked in rubber-coat, cap and boots, rapped at the front door, where Miss Gill was called, and there presented with a wonderful big box of mysteries, a veritable "shower" of dainty and beautiful gifts from the friends assembled. There followed a gay display of pretty towels and household linens; silver and china, valuable articles for all the house, and many other personal gifts, giving happiness to this bride-elect, as it has ever done since the beautiful idea of bridal showers was instituted.

The evening closed with a refreshment treat of hot chocolate and cake, and the departing guests sincerely thanked Mr. and Mrs. Clark and Miss Rigney for a delightful social season in this hospital home.

Those present were Misses Bessie Gray, Odelle Majors, Mary Rigney, Jessie Mae George, Lilla Majors; Mesdames J. W. McGuire, R. D. Laney, Mae Mills, Hattie Buchanan, J. M. F. Gill, J. E. Gray, J. M. Pogue, W. R. Hill and Miss Gill, the honoree; and last, but not most charming, were the little daughters of the household, Frances and Melba Clark.

WEDDING AT MARAK.

Leo Ejim and Miss Mary Zarosky were married last Tuesday morning at ten o'clock in the Catholic church at Marak, Father Kacer officiating. After the ceremony, the wedding party was entertained with a luncheon in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zarosky. These young people are known and loved by a wide circle of friends who wish them much happiness as they enter into this new relation. Those attending from Cameron were: Mr. and Mrs. Felix Matula and family, Aug. Gurecky, Clem Zarosky, F. A. Marek and family, Steve Marak and family.

MORNING WEDDING.

An early morning wedding at the Catholic church, Wednesday morning October 30, was of interest to a large circle of friends. Mr. Louis Moraw of this city and Miss Josephine Boedeker of Ben Arnold were the contracting parties. Rev. Simon Spinneweber was the officiating clergyman. Mr. Leo Moraw and Miss Katie Klement, Mr. Otto Boedeker and Miss Lena Moraw were the attendants. The bride was dressed in full bridal costume of white charmeuse and never looked more charming.

Mr. and Mrs. Moraw will make their home in Cameron.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Miss Jean McFadyen entertained with a Halloween party Friday evening at her home on First Street.

Fifteen couples were included in the guest list. A gipsy tent was erected on the lawn and here a fortune teller revealed the future to the anxious inquirers. A bonfire cast the needed weird light over the scene, and seated around this, the guests enjoyed pop corn, apples, nuts and other goodies, told jokes, and played games, taking occasional strolls to give variety.

Later in the evening, the hostess, assisted by her mother, served hot chocolate and sandwiches.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

An event of approaching interest to all Cameron is the announcement that on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 6, 7 and 8, at the home of Mrs. F. J. Beckerman there will be on display hand embroidered articles of every description. The invitation to call and see this display is extended to all. In presenting this display the problem of selecting Christmas gifts is answered in a most convincing way. Make your Christmas selections early.

WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mrs. C. N. Green entertained in a characteristically charming manner last Friday afternoon, October 26, in announcing the approaching marriage of her niece, Miss Irene Cheeves.

Miss Cheeves will be married Nov. 15 to Mr. Fontaine Flinn of Bishop oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Flinn of this city. The wedding will be solemnized in the First Methodist church of Cameron and is pleasantly anticipated by a host of friends. Guests arriving at the appointed hour on Friday found the handsome home on Travis Avenue, beautifully decorated. The reception suite being gay with Halloween symbols and colors. Mrs. W. J. Woods, a sister of the hostess and an aunt of the bride to be, met the guests and introduced them to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Frank Green, a bride and groom of recent date, Misses Mary Frances and Helen Green, who formed the receiving line.

On entering the parlors, they found tables in readiness for the afternoon's diversion, forty-two. These tables, seven in number, in keeping with the Halloween season were covered with black covers and marked with yellow pumpkins. After six games a two course luncheon was served. The dining room was a bower of loveliness.

In the center of the table which was covered with handsome cluny lace, was a silver basket filled with pink Killarney roses. This basket is a wedding present to the bride from the grooms uncle and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Flinn of Dallas. Killarney roses adorned the mantle and buffet and lighted candles in tulle bowed holders gave the needed soft touch to the scene.

While the last course was being placed at the piano and a medley of sweet straining reached the ears of the guests. Suddenly the wedding march was noted and with its notes, a miniature bride, little Carolyn Cheeves, the real bride's sister, descended the stairs, which were beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and gray moss. On reaching the landing, she tossed her bouquet, which was caught by Mrs. B. F. Bonds. In the center of this a pink heart was found which contained the happy secret. After reading the announcement, Mrs. Bonds presented the bouquet, which had been sent by the prospective groom, to his intended bride.

AUTOMOBILE TAX FOR 1923 IS ANNOUNCED.

The following table of license fees for automobiles for 1923 has been announced by the local office of the tax collector following receipt of the schedule from Austin.

From this table you may figure what the tax will be on your automobile this year.

Schedules of motor vehicles: Registration fees to be collected pursuant to Motor Fee Bill, enacted at the regular session of the Thirty-eighth Legislature, 1923.

1. General passenger car schedule. (Applicable only to all passenger car licenses issued for 1924 and thereafter.)

Weight of vehicle in pounds	Annual Fee	Annual Fee pr 100 lb. or frac. thereof
Class 1—3-2000	40c	17 1/2
Class 2—2001-3500	50c	17 1/2
Class 3—3501-4500	60c	17 1/2
Class 4—4501 & up	75c	17 1/2

In order to determine the proper license fee for a passenger vehicle, it is necessary to know the weight of the vehicle and the horse power.

Example:—Take for instance, a car weighing 2015 pounds, including 100 pounds for fuel and equipment, and having a horsepower rating of 24; this vehicle under the table prescribed by the Legislature will come under Class 2, and must pay 50 cents per hundred pounds, or fraction thereof. This would be $10.66 as a weight fee; 17 1/2 cents per horsepower, would equal $4.20, making the proper registration fee for this passenger vehicle $14.70.

2. Motor Buss Schedule. (Applicable to all licenses issued for 1924 and thereafter.)

Owners of Passenger Motor Vehicles operated for hire are required to pay an additional fee of $4.00 per passenger for each passenger the motor vehicle will seat.

In order to determine the proper fee for a motor bus, it is necessary to know the weight of the vehicle, the horsepower and the number of passengers the bus will carry. For example: A bus weighing 3000 pounds, including 100 pounds for fuel and equipment, with a 24 horsepower rating, would pay 50 cents per 100 pounds, or fraction thereof, amounting to $15, plus 7 1/2 cents per horsepower, amounting to $4.20, plus $4.00 per passenger for 7 passengers, amounting to $28, which makes a total of $47.20.

The minimum horse power fee for one year is $4.00.

To the weight of all passenger vehicles 100 pounds must be added for fuel and equipment. The Highway Department has adopted this weight as standard and would suggest to all tax collectors in determining the weight of fuel and equipment they add 100 pounds to the gross weight of all passenger vehicles.

Detailed Schedule of horse power fees payable under motor fee law.

Applicable to all 1924 licenses issued for passenger motor vehicles, motor busses and commercial motor vehicles.

FOR SALE—My residence in north Cameron, one block from the Yoe High school for sale. R. L. Battle, 26-4t.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicinal treatment, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c. ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

MEDICINAL VIRTUES RETAINED AND IMPROVED—DANGER OF SICKENING QUALITIES REMOVED. PERFECTED TABLET CALLED "CALOTABS"

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water, that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

STAR CAR BREAKS FAST MAY BUILD ROADWAY TO TRANSCONTINENTAL TIME TAP NEW GAUSE HIGHWAY

WONDERFUL TEST MET BY STAR
IN RACE ACROSS COUNTRY
SAYS LOCAL DEALER.

Rivalling the stories of the pony express, and putting to shame the breakneck race of the movies, Irving "Speed" Wallace of Minot, N. D., accompanied by George Russell, Jr., graduate of electrical engineering at the DeMar College of California, recently tore across the continent in a race against the record of the transcontinental fast mail, and beat it by four and one-half hours, according to J. L. Barmore of the Barmore-Shires Motor Co., local Star dealers.

The car driven on this trip was a Star touring and the young drivers encountered plains, deserts and mountains—traversed roads that were almost impassable from ruts and mud. And they did it in 84 hours and 40 minutes, as against the fast mail record of 89 hours and 10 minutes, for a distance of 2250 miles.

On this race against the mail train schedule through the hot sands of the desert, the thermometer registered 113 degrees during the greater portion of the time. This terrific heat, Mr. Barmore said, has daunted many drivers, but Wallace and Russell successfully conquered the heat and crossed without any trouble, into more fertile land.

In order to maintain the average of 27 miles an hour from Los Angeles, it was necessary to make good time whenever opportunity offered and this they did by traveling on many occasions from 45 to 50 miles an hour. Through Montana, particularly they lost considerable time because of the deep muddy roads which gave the Star Car such gruelling, pulling and power test as few cars ever experience and stand up under.

In speaking of the record-breaking trip later Wallace said, "I found the Star car all that has been claimed for it. It has a world of power and all the speed that any car could possibly require at any time and under any conditions. The Star performed in true championship style and never once did it falter under the heavy strain placed upon it.

This latest record performance of the Star car is just one more of a long string of similar ones which this car is consistently adding to its already long list of outstanding achievements. Not only did it break down the barrier of time, but it showed by convincing figures that it is an economical car to own and drive, averaging over these poor roads 27 miles to the gallon of gasoline and 700 miles to the quart of oil. Further proof of the ability of the Star car's power plant is shown in the fact that the average time for this trying 2250 mile trip was 26 miles per hour plus.

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

COMMERCIAL CLUB REFERS MATTER TO GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE FOR ACTION

Prospects of building a short stretch of road from Hanover to connect up with the new B. V. D. Highway that is to parallel the International and Great Northern railroad in the eastern edge of the county are better since the matter has been referred to the Commercial Club committee on good roads.

The plan is to interest the highway which is to be built with a new bridge over the Brazos river and to direct travel to Cameron. Already a good road has been constructed to Hanover which is in a short distance of the highway survey and by closing up the link the city will be connected with a great outlet to the east.

The committee through Giles L. Avriett reported the need for building a road in the oil field and the club asked the committee to bring an estimate of the cost before the club.

Such reports are encouraging and it is pleasing to note the co-operation shown the agent among colored farmers of Milam county.

STUDENTS CO-OPERATE IN SANITARY MOVEMENT.

The students of Yoe High school with the co-operation of members of the faculty have inaugurated a movement to make the High School building the best kept school house in Texas. Student monitors will inspect each room at the close of each period of the school day, at which time all trash and waste material will be collected. One minute will be given to inspection, and the students believe that six minutes a day given to sanitation will solve the problem of keeping floors and desks in first class condition. Students who willfully deface the building or furniture will be fined in conformity with the general statutes covering the defacing of public property.

MAKES RAPID HEADWAY.

Add This Fact to Your Store of Knowledge.

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. If there is a dull pain in the back, headaches, dizzy spells or a tired worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain, procure a good kidney remedy at once.

Your townspeople recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the statement of this Cameron citizen:

H. R. Williams, farmer, says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been such that I heartily recommend them to anyone who has kidney complaint. I have taken Doan's when I have been suffering with sore muscles and backache. They have always given me the best satisfaction and for that reason, I am glad to endorse them."

Note Found Believed Death Love Pact; Ask Burial In Same Grave

(Temple Telegram)

Miss Hilda Chollette, 22 years old, and Calvin Padgett, 19 years old, were found shot to death in the road a few hundred yards from the girl's home two miles northeast of Meeks at an early hour yesterday morning. The tragedy had occurred about 10 o'clock and the first person to reach the scene was Worth Chancellor, service car driver who was returning to Temple from a trip to the eastern part of the county.

The bodies were found at the side of the public road in the moonlight. The youth had fallen on his back, his face upward and slightly turned to one side. His sweetheart had fallen on top of him, her head resting on his shoulder and neck. A short distance from her right hand lay a new revolver with five empty cartridge shells in its chamber.

Officers from Temple and Rogers were on the scene in a short time and the inquest verdict was murder and suicide charged against the pretty young girl.

Young Padgett had been shot three times, once in the heart, once in the neck and in the arm. The girl was shot just above the heart. One shot fired at the boy is believed to have missed its mark. Her neat and clean clothes were powder burned from the shot that ended her life.

Investigation developed that the boy and girl had been to the picture show at Meeks as had been their custom and had started home about 9:30 o'clock. The tragedy occurred on the road near the Roper farm where the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chollette, live.

Calvin Padgett was the son of Mrs. Rosa Padgett who lives about three miles east of Meeks and both of the young people were of highly respected families.

The officers in their investigation went to the girl's home and found her room as neat and attractive as had been her personal appearance. Her trunk was tidily kept and at the suggestion of her mother its contents were searched. In a writing tablet a note had been written at some time before the tragedy and had been scratched over with a pencil.

Deciphering of the note could not be exact but the best translation obtainable was: "We begged to be buried together in the same grave side by side." The reading matter in the note was all clear with the exception of the words "begged" and "same grave" but these seemed to most likely words from close examination of the pencil tracings.

Death swooped down upon them near North Elm Creek—scarcely more than a ravine about a mile east of Meeks.

The moon was never shining prettier than it was Wednesday night; the scene of the crime was never more picturesque or beautiful until gorgeous tragedy swept across the little lane down which the couple was strolling—visiting death upon the young man and the young woman and bringing suddenly to a cruel end a pleasant evening of wholesome amusement. But what once had been a scene which artists might wish they could paint was converted into a weird morgue—the moon shining with greater brilliance as if to outline the forms of the lifeless bodies in the narrow lane.

The girl's family said that she had had been in the habit of going to the show "with Cal" and that she acted as though there was nothing strange in her mind as she left home. Her manner was nothing to attract attention and "she seemed just like she always was."

When her brother saw the gun with the five cartridges emptied he exclaimed:

"Why mother! that looks like my gun. 'It was in the kitchen safe.'"

The gun, a new Harrington and Richards, .32 calibre double action revolver, was missing from the new box in the kitchen safe. It had been bought some time ago from a mail order house but had never been used and had been left in its box. It was loaded with five shells, he said. The girl had probably carried it from home when she left to go to the show.

The bodies were removed to the homes of the two young lovers whose lives—if not their loves—had ended so tragically.

Officers who investigated the case included: Sheriff Bond and Deputies Johnson and Owen, Justice Howard and the constable from Rosebud, Justice Williamson of Temple, Justice C. L. Gibson and Constable L. B. Jeter of Rogers, Chief of Police Wiley Fisher of Temple and others. The Bell and Falls county and also the precinct lines lie near the scene of the shooting.

FRANK O. LOWDEN IS MARKETING BOOSTER FOR FARMERS OF AMERICA.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 29.—Declaring that "co-operative marketing is the only hope for solution of the farmer's problems," and that "there will be no return of prosperity until the proper relationship between the farmer and the rest of the people is restored," former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois and Republican leader of national-wide influence, spoke convincingly on the problem facing agriculture at the State Fair of Texas, yesterday.

"Regardless of what immediate measures of temporary relief the Government may see fit to extend to wheat farmers of the country who are suffering from low prices of that commodity, the permanent solution of wheat farmer's problems lies in commodity co-operative marketing such as is successfully in practice in California and in the cotton and tobacco growing States of the South and East," he said.

"You naturally ask how we shall restore the normal relationship between prices of farm commodities and services and other commodities and services. Many co-operative societies for the sale of farm products have been and are being formed. Organizations now being formed under the direction of the American Farm Bureau Federation are based upon sound economic principles, looking towards the orderly, intelligent marketing of the various commodities.

"Now is the time for the farmers of America to show their loyalty to their organizations, and to give their support to marketing co-operative societies. They are recognized as legitimate in the business world. The Federal Reserve Board has recognized them through the extension of credit. The business world generally sees in the co-operative movement a new and mighty force in the marketing and distribution of farm products.

"Co-operative marketing is the only hope for the solution of the farmer's problems and there will be no return to prosperity until the proper relationship between the farmer and the rest of the people is restored," Gov. Lowden said.

Mr. Lowden is one of the foremost figures in American agriculture and a foremost support of the Farm Bureau movement. He is also a "dirt farmer," having holdings in several different States, and is one of the largest consignors of cotton co-operatively in any of the eleven marketing associations of the South. Mr. Lowden is also one of America's foremost Holstein breeders, and last month was elected chairman of a committee to form an association for the co-operative marketing of the 160,000,000 bushels of surplus wheat in America.

While in Dallas, Mr. Lowden delivered numerous addresses, speaking before large gatherings at each engagement on the subject of agricultural problems.

TO DARKEN HAIR —APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft, and luxuriant.

Here's Proof That Advertising Pays

Famous Wrigley Building in Chicago Being Doubled in Size

The part of the Wrigley Building erected two years ago has filled such a want that the north section, nearly double the floor area of the south section, is being added.

This north section, nearly completed, occupies the entire block, immediately across North Water Street, fronting on Michigan Avenue and reaching to the height of the main part of the first structure, with a connecting bridge.

The space in the new section is already nearly all taken by high-class firms in advance of the completion of the building.

Here is a concrete (as well as a steel and glass) proof of the saying that "advertising pays." In these magnificent buildings Mr. Wrigley has erected an impressive testimonial to this great truth. They loom large and beautiful. They typify the achievements of the man who built them. They stand as a monitor over the activity of the Nation's second city—inspiring—dominating—massive—bearing unanswerable testimony to the POWER OF ADVERTISING.

ing for a penalty for the violation of the provisions of this ordinance; and declaring an emergency.

Section 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for the owner, keeper or caretaker of any dog to own, keep, or maintain any dog within the limits of the City of Cameron, Texas, for a longer period of time than 15 days, without having first having said dog vaccinated against rabies; that any owner, keeper, or caretaker of any such dog shall fail or refuse to have such dog so vaccinated, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars.

Sec. 1. That it shall be the duty of the Sanitary Officer of the City of Cameron, to vaccinate against rabies all dogs at the request of the owner, keeper, or caretaker thereof, upon the payment by said owner, keeper, or caretaker of a fee of $2.50, and to deliver to said owner, keeper, or caretaker a suitable tag showing the name of the owner, keeper or caretaker, name of the dog and the date of the vaccination, said tag to be suspended from the neck of said dog. It shall further be the duty of said Sanitary Officer to keep in a record book, well-bound and strong, a record of the names of all dogs vaccinated, the names of said dogs, the dates of vaccination, and the fees charged. Provided, however, that if the owner, keeper or caretaker of any dog shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this ordinance the Sanitary Officer shall take up the dog, vaccinate same and hold for a period of 13 days and, upon failure by the owner, keeper or caretaker to pay the fee then to destroy said dog.

I had to keep off my feet or I would fall, I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as be dead as living. Some one told my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. ## JOSEPH ALEXANDER HUFFMAN.

Joseph Alexander Huffman, splendid pioneer of Milam county, dead and laid to rest in the now famous little country church yard at Salem, six miles from Cameron, Texas.

Joseph Alexander Huffman was born in Alabama, December 8th, 1842, and died October 22, 1923. He was married on the 18th day of March, 1868 to Rebecca E. Jackson who was still with him in his passing hour, and there were born to this union five children: Nettie, Chester, Ira, Itasca and Susanna; the first two survive him, the next two passing away after they were grown, the last dying in infancy.

The above are short and simple annals, but they do not tell the story of one of Milam county's worthy honorable citizen. Alex Huffman, as he was known to his friends and neighbors, belonged to that famous and immortal company of heroes known as the "Milam County Greys," mustered into the service of the Confederate Army by Lieutenant Sparks at Houston, Texas, August 28, 1861.

Milam County's sons on that celebrated muster-roll are the brightest and dearest to many of the oldest and best families. They were organized and inspired by that matchless leader, Captain, and Late Major, J. C. Rogers, who was the very incarnation of a soldier and intrepid commander.

On that roster and some of the men and some of the proudest families and names in this county. Among the officers, upon organization in Houston, were First Lieutenant John Smith, 2nd Lieutenant Sam Streetman, who fell on the field of battle and was an Uncle of our Judge Sam Streetman, 3rd Lieutenant Lu Batte, 1st, Orderly Sergeant Wm. J. Terry, 2nd Orderly Sergeant W. A. Nabours of pleasant and honorable memory, Ben Green, James L. Stewart and others. And among the names of privates, some of the most splendid men of revered memory and service, among them Isaac M. Pool, James M. McKinney, James L. Lawrence, Elwood M. Bean, R. C. Turnham, C. J. Jackson, R. B. Mayes, D. R. Beal, James Stidham and many others too numerous to mention, but whose names cause a flood of tribute to their valor and great worth.

Nearly all of that band of patriots gave their lives on the field of battle, and many of their bodies sleep their last sleep, on the battle field of Virginia and other states where they will rest until the last day, beside their comrades who wore the grey and by the side of their adversaries who wore the blue, where "On fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And glory guards with solemn round The bivouac of the dead."

Alex Huffman was one of the best of that Company and as a boy of eighteen, he went out and gave his best, and like most of that band who escaped death on those bloodiest of all the fields of battle in the history of the world, he returned shot and mangled by wounds that never healed in heart and body.

He suffered from four or five wounds, three of them received in that great "Battle of the Wilderness" that gave a crown of glory to our immortal heroes: Hood and Lee.

Alex Huffman was there, and I wish to pay a small tribute to his valor. He has been a good true citizen ever since he came back on crutches, and only a few days ago I saw him wearing crutches. Oh! the pity of it all! I pray to God it shall never be again. The only support and cure for the wounds of the heart is Jesus Christ, and I believe Alex Huffman lived in that faith.

May we all revere his memory and stand by the principles for which he and his comrades fought and lost, in the valorous and glorious company—the "Milam County Greys" of deathless memory.

These feeble words are written with great respect and reverence at his request while living, for he was my friend.

Sincerely,
W. T. HEFLEY.

KILL YOUR GRASS OR WEEDS WITH West Texas Weed and Timber Killer

KILLS ALL TREES, SPROUTS AND NOXIOUS PLANTS

It's a concentrated form of a liquid form, for clearing the farm of all wild onions, garlic, wild rhubarb, Canadian thistle, morning glory vines, Johnson and Bermuda grass and other noxious weeds. West Texas Timber and Weed Killer is unequalled and excels any imitation on the market. It is a salvation to the farmer whose land is infested with these pests of vegetation.

In permanently destroying dandelion, plantain and other pest plants on lawns caution should be used in applying West Texas Timber & Weed Killer, so as not to kill lawn grasses surrounding them. It only requires a few drops applied directly to the center of these plants. We manufacture a specially designed sprayer or dropper, that we recommend to be used in exterminating such plants that affords a protection to the lawn grasses.

Driveways in parks and in cemeteries are kept clean of weeds by spraying with an ordinary sprayer or sprinkler. Weeds on vacant lots can be quickly and economically destroyed by spraying, and is far cheaper and more efficient than mowing.
One application of this liquid is sufficient for the season. Directions on the container.

EDUCATION WEEK BEGINS NOVEMBER EIGHTEENTH

CAMERON EXPECTED TO CO-OPERATE IN OBSERVING PROCLAMATION.

Beginning November 18 "Education Week" will be observed throughout the nation. Cameron is expected to co-operate in the observance of education week as outlined in the proclamation of President Coolidge as follows:

By the President of the United States of America a Proclamation:

From its earliest beginnings, America has been devoted to the cause of education. This country was founded on the ideal of ministering to the individual. It was realized that this must be done by the institutions of religion and government. In order that there might be a properly educated clergy and well trained civil magistrates, one of the first thoughts of the early settlers was to provide for a college of liberal culture, while for the general diffusion of knowledge, primary schools were established. This course was taken as the necessary requirement of enlightened society.

"Such a policy, once adopted, has continued to grow in extent. With the adoption of the Federal Constitution and the establishment of free government in the States of the Union, there was additional reason for broadening the opportunity for education. Our country adopted the principle of self-government by a free people. Those who were worthy of being free were worthy of being educated. Those who had the duty and responsibility of government, necessarily have the education with which to discharge the obligations of citizenship. The sovereign had to be educated. The sovereign had become the people. Schools and universities were provided by the various governments, and founded and fostered by private charity, until their buildings dotted all the land.

The willingness of the people to bear the burdens of maintaining these institutions, and the patriotic devotion of an army of teachers, who, in many cases, might earn larger incomes in other pursuits, have made it possible to accomplish results with which we may well be gratified. But the task is not finished, it has only been begun.

We have observed the evidences of a broadening vision of the whole educational system. This has included a recognition that education must not end with the period of school attendance, but must be given every encouragement thereafter. To this end the night schools of the cities, the moonlight schools of the southern Appalachian countries, the extension work of the colleges and universities, the provision for teaching technical, agricultural and mechanical arts, have marked out the path to a broader and more widely diffused national culture. To insure the permanence and continuing improvement of such an educational policy, there must be the fullest public realization of its absolute necessity. Every American citizen is entitled to a liberal education. Without this, there is no guarantee for the permanence of free institutions, no hope of perpetuating self-government. Despotism finds its chief support in ignorance. Knowledge and freedom go hand in hand.

"In order that the people of the nation may think on these things, it is desirable that there should be an annual observance of Educational Week.

"Now, Therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim the week beginning on the eighteenth of November, next, as National Education Week, and urge its observance throughout the country. I recommend that the State and local authorities co-operate with the civic and religious bodies to secure its most general and helpful observance, for the purpose of more liberally supporting and more effectively improving the educational facilities of our country.

"In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done, in the City of Washington this twenty-sixth day of September in the year of our Lord, One Thousand and Nine Hundred and Twenty-three.

and of the Independence of the United States, the One Hundred and Forty-eighth.

(Signed) CALVIN COOLIDGE
By the President:
(Signed) CHARLES E. HUGHES,
Secretary of State.

Former Cameron Boy and Globe Trotter Declares Texas Has A Hard Name

Imprudent newspaper correspondents have inadvertently caused the Great State of Texas to be placed in an unfavorable light before the world says Cecil Jefferson Easterwood now in California who in writing to his mother in Milam county encloses a story widely circulated about a small girl in El Paso who was brought up in a pigsty because of brutal parents.

Mr. Easterwood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Easterwood of Buckholts Route 2 and is well known in Cameron. During recent years he has traveled over the world a great deal and at one time his parents thought he was dead. He is now in California and he hopes to publish sometime in the future some of his travel stories as he has been a soldier of fortune in adventures with color and romance.

Young Easterwood after reading the following story is telling folks he is from China and not Texas:

Not long ago a police captain down in El Paso, Texas, looked up from his desk and saw a woman standing before him. She had entered quietly, almost furtively. A shawl around her head allowed little more than her eyes to be seen.

"What do you want?" asked the captain.

"Send your men to Fifth and Tornill street. Let them go into the Chavez yard. Let them look into the old pigsty," said the woman.

She turned abruptly and almost ran from the room.

"Hey wait!" cried the captain—but his furtive visitor had vanished. "That's funny," mused the captain. But after a little he stirred uneasily and called to him Ira Cline and Ivy Fenley, two of the detectives. He told them of his mysterious visitor.

"Probably nothing in it," he said. "But go down there anyway and look in what she called the pigsty and see what you can find. Better dig around a little, too. Maybe they've got some bootleg booze hidden there."

So the two detectives went down to Fifth and Tornill street and slipped through the back way into the yard of the Chavez house. They saw a pen that had evidently been first designed for pigs. There was even the old trough still beside it. It was built of scrap lumber and tin. Heavy strips of wood were nailed across a part of the front, with spaces between them about large enough to admit a hand. The door was similarly barred and heavily locked.

Close to this old sty or pen were four apparently healthy and developed children—the oldest about ten. A little way off a well nourished baby kicked its heels in a cradle protected by mosquito netting. The four children became silent as the officers approached them. One of them started to run back into the house, apparently to warn whoever was there of the strangers.

"You stay right here," Kline ordered. The two men then peeped through the latticed door. The place was divided by a partition. On one side were pigeons and chickens. On the other they caught sight of a figure that at first they thought was a monkey.

And then they realized that it was a child! A little girl, a rag or two covering her nakedness, her hair matted her body filthy, she knelt on the littered floor, head bowed and hands clasped together in prayer.

The detectives broke the lock and entered. As they stood over the child they saw that she knelt upon a thin mattress, almost inconceivably dirty. Beyond that there was nothing but the bare ground, covered with refuse. A dented tin basin that had evidently held food was close to the slats and a pail of water. There were bones here and there around the floor, which had been chewed as though by a starving dog.

Kline reached down and carried the girl out through the door. By her weight and size she was, he thought, about four years old, but as he looked into her face and eyes he was startled by the marks of premature age upon it. The eyes were large and like those of a much beaten animal.

The girl spoke. "I am Julia," she said. "I am hungry."

"Who put you in there?" asked the detectives. But the child shook her head as though not understanding.

"How long have you been in there?" asked Fenley.

Then slowly and laboriously, as though the effort was almost too much for her, both mentally and physically, the child told a story that filled the two policemen with wrath and pity.

As long as she could remember, she said, she had lived in the old sty. There was a woman who lived in the house who brought food and drink to her, poking them through the slats. Other people had sometimes slipped in when it was dark and given her nice things to drink and to eat.

The children who belong in the house of the woman had taught her how to talk. Of what lay outside the old pigsty beyond the yard she was entirely ignorant. She had been told to cover herself with the rags that were thrust into her. Except that her name was Julia she knew nothing of herself. She liked the children who played in the yard into which she looked through her bars, even though sometimes they teased her. On personal cleanliness she had only rudimentary ideas.

"What is a bath?" she asked.

At last she fell silent, would answer no more questions, and always as the slow words came from her she kept her hands together in that mute attitude of prayer.

Julia was taken away, and with her "the woman in the house." She proved to be the child's step-mother, and in a short time the almost incredible story of the girl in the pigsty was made plain.

The detectives thought little Julia was only four, but the found she was in fact thirteen years old. For ten years, ever since she had been three, she had lived day and night, week in and week out in the old pigsty. Of mother's care, of the life of the normal child, she knew nothing.

Alternate days and nights of loneliness and never satisfied hunger, these had been for those ten long years her whole existence. Of her life before she went into the pen she had no recollection whatever. She had watched the other children in the backyard playing, being cared for and caressed. But why she should not share in the play and the caresses—she did not know. When night came she had watched them go into the house. Why she should not go into the house with them—she did not know. Sometimes she wondered, but not often, apparently.

It is likely, say the El Paso authorities, who now have her, that Julia did not even think of herself as one of those other children. In the stunted brain of that little ill-nourished body may have been the thought that she was not a human child at all—that she was something indeed like the chickens or the pigeons that shared her abode.

That there was a world outside that back yard she hardly realized.

She never had a toy!

Scientifically speaking, although ten years had passed since first she was imprisoned, the mal-nutrition and brutal treatment had stopped both mental and physical growth at the age of four. Her thoughts were those of a four-year-old child, as her body was that of one of the same age.

Neighbors, summoned to tell what they knew, said that they had never seen her out of the pen. They said that she had been fed on scraps by the step-mother, but that they had smuggled filk and other nourishment to her when opportunity offered. Why they had not reported the case to the police before they would not tell. Nor do the police know to-day who the woman was who, overcoming either fear or superstition, at last gave the word that released little Julia from her bondage.

The step-mother, not a bad-looking woman, told two stories. She either would not or could not say how long the child had been in the sty. But the police of El Paso were satisfied by neighbors' stories and other evidence at least that it must have been for ten years. The step-mother said that she had put the baby in the pen away from the other children because a doctor had told her that little Julia had consumption and would endanger the health of her own children if allowed in the house, but she would not tell the doctor's name. Again, she said that the girl's father had not wanted her, and put upon him the responsibility for the atrocious treatment of the little one.

The first hours of escape for little Julia must have been to her like an entrance into Fairyland—far more astounding to her than the things the fairy godmother conjured up for Cinderella of the fairy tale. True, the golden coach was only a Ford, and Mrs. Anna Webster, the court's probation officer, who took her in charge, was not as gorgeous as that same fairy. But little Julia had never seen an automobile before in her life, and she had never had a woman's kindly arm about her. Nor was she frightened at the automobile—because she had never seen a horse either, and did not know anything about transportation devices, either mechanical or natural.

The tiny passenger in the chugging Ford stared wonderingly at the trees, the grass and the flowers. She had never seen grass or trees or flowers before either.

When the automobile drew up at the door of what must have seemed to her a dreamland palace she could not for a time realize that she was to enter, and she gasped in amazement and stood almost reeling over the marble floor—this child who for ten long years had known only the earthen floor of her pigsty home. They could hardly drag her away from a marvelous thing which stood on a gleaming glass support in the sheriff's office, topped by a glistening sphere which held multi-colored tiny globes. She didn't know, as almost every child in America did, that it was only a patent chewing gum slot machine. She did not know what chewing gum was!

And when a coin was put in the slot, a lever pushed and a bright ball rolled out—it was nothing short of magic! But, of course, Julia didn't know anything about magic.

It took several minutes to convince her that the gum was intended for eating, and even when she was persuaded to try it she nibbled timidly as if afraid.

Then more wonders. She was led into a box and a metal door clanged in front of her. It reminded her of her pigsty again, except this box was larger, and before she had time to ponder on this she felt herself rising into the sky. She couldn't see the sky, but she knew from the motion that she was leaving the earth behind and mounting dizzily.

Then a stop, the metal door opened and she was led down a long, high-ceilinged hall into a big room with deep windows, iron-barred, but looking out into a world of green.

Beds were ranged around the sides of the big room. Women in white passed about, waiting on other women. It was the county clinic, where women drug addicts are held in hope of curing them.

Julia knew it was all a part of the big palace, though, and that somehow she was an honored guest.

She was given the first bath of her life in a real bathtub. And she smiled in delight when one of the women in white turned on the warm water in the shining tub and lathered her emaciated body with soothing suds of cleansing soap. When the bath was over a rub in olive oil followed.

Next she was placed in a comfortable bed, with fresh, cool sheets, the like of which she had never known.

It was all very strange, but one familiar object gave her something of a sense of feeling at home. A kitten, playing on the floor of the big room, was just like other kittens she had seen playing in the dirt near the pigsty. She stretched out a bony arm toward the kitten, and was happy when they put the animal in her bed.

At last Julia slept. The kitten curled up in a ball beside her. An orange—given to her by a young woman who smoked cigarettes and whose face was wan, with a fading trace of young beauty—was clutched tightly in a small fist.

Thus was Julia introduced to her palace which ordinary people call the county jail.

Julia is growing accustomed to real food three times a day, a bed for sleeping, regular baths and good medical and nursing attention. Her spindling legs are filling out; her emaciated little body is growing plump and her black-luster eyes have taken on new expression.

Many have written to Mrs. Webster, the probation officer, with offers of a home for the pigsty girl.

But Julia will make her home in the dream palace of El Paso County. Specialists, wise men who know about neglected children, are studying her case and doing all that medical science can to compensate for those ten worse than lost years of her life in a pigsty. Later—when they have done what is possible to make her fat and happy and well like other children of her age—she may be sent to a private home in California or elsewhere.

The father of little Julia has been located in Kansas, where he has been working and sending money back to his wife. They are not in bad circumstances at all. What will be done with them is still a question.

NEW COLORED SCHOOL BUILDING COMPLETED AT ROCKDALE.

The Rockdale Colored School opened its 1923-24 term last week in the handsome $10,000 school building recently provided by the tax payers through the School Board and City Council. Rockdale can now lay claim to having probably the best and handsomest colored school building in this section of the state, and those of our citizens who have not seen the new building should go over and inspect it. Such a building should be, and no doubt will be, an inspiration to the colored population of our city, who will realize that it places Rockdale colored citizens in the forefront among the Central Texas towns in the matter of prosperous educational interests.

In token of their appreciation of the work in past years of that splendid Negro citizen and prominent Texas educator, Bryan Y. Aycock, the School Board has officially christened the new building "The Bryan Aycock Public School." Aycock is one of the most prominent men of his race in Texas, and during his long tenure of office as head of the Rockdale Colored School his work as educator and citizen was such as to entitle him to this honor, in the opinion of the School Board. Aycock is now a citizen of San Antonio, where he moved a few years ago for the benefit of his health.

The completion of this building is but the keeping of a promise made by the School Board to the colored citizens several years ago at the time bonds were voted for the purpose of building the new white school house. The Board felt that the negroes were also entitled to a new building, and they have fully met the requirements of the case. The bond issue was not large enough to complete both the white and colored schools, but with the hearty co-operation of the City Council means were provided to supplement the amount of bond money available, and the new colored school is the result. In this respect considerable credit is due Alderman Tom Marrs. Under his personal and active supervision the Board constructed the new building by the day labor plan, completing it according to specifications for considerably less money than the lowest bid of any contractor. The lowest bid secured on the work was $10,000 cash money, plus the lumber and materials to be salvaged from the old negro school building and the old white primary building. On that basis the Rockdale Colored School building is worth anywhere from $12,000 to $14,000 as it stands today. This estimate does not include the value of the building site, which was greatly enlarged by the purchase of several adjoining lots. The school is now situated on the highest point in that portion of town with a full block of campus surrounding it.

The building contains six large, well-lighted, well-ventilated classrooms, each supplied with ample cloak-room facilities, and a large auditorium. This auditorium will seat the largest gathering the colored population will likely have. Folding doors have been provided whereby one of the classrooms can be thrown into the auditorium.

The building is thoroughly modern throughout, equipped with running water and electric lights, and a plan is now on foot by the City Council looking to the installation of sewer connections. The entire plant has been planned in accordance with specifications of the Rosenwald Foundation, which is an endowment fund from which money may be drawn to assist in the erection of Negro school houses. The Board hopes to be able to draw on this fund for $1,500, application for same now pending.

D. S. Shanks, late of Seguin, is the new principal in charge of the school this year. Shanks comes well recommended as a good school man, and is anticipating a pleasant and profitable school year for his people. The enrollment is not at its peak yet, and probably will not be until the cotton picking season is over.

Rockdale colored people are very proud of their new building, and The Reporter suggests that our white citizens go over and visit the school soon and give Shanks and his faculty a word of encouragement.—Rockdale Reporter.

MORE THAN $2,000 RAISED FOR ROAD AND STREET WORK

A Chamber of Commerce committee consisting of H. C. Meyer, Lon Hudson, Will Coffield, C. R. Isaacs, Ernest Noack and W. E. White last week circulated a subscription list for funds with which to gravel the oil field road, leading to an intersection with the Rockdale-Tracy road. The committee met with splendid success, raising something over $1,000. Dr. T. D. Rountree reports that he has raised something over $400 among land owners and oil operators in the field to be added to the fund. Commissioner Dick Hairston will apply $1,000 of the Road District No. 10 money to the same purpose all of which it is thought, will give sufficient funds to complete the work.

This road has stood in need of graveling ever since the oil field was opened up several years ago. It has been talked repeatedly, and is now to be actually built.

B. Ashby and Eddie Backhaus, self-appointed boosters for a better Ackerman street, report that their subscription list has also reached the sum of $1,000. This money will be used to gravel Ackerman street from Bell street out to the city limits, connecting with the Sap Highway. This is also a very badly needed piece of work, too long delayed, but all the more to be appreciated.

The Reporter will probably publish the list of donors to these two projects in next week's paper.—Rockdale Reporter.

MAKE UNCLE SAM YOUR SERVANT.

It has often been said that Texas does a number of things better than any other state. Evidence to substantiate this is found in the enormous business university located at Tyler—The Tyler Commercial College.

This great institution enrolls more than four thousand students every year, and the success of its graduates is phenomenal. Boys and girls from towns like ours who have taken the various courses taught by Tyler Commercial College are found among the business leaders of our nation.

For those who do not find it possible to attend their school the management of Tyler Commercial College have arranged to send their courses by mail anywhere in the United States. By this arrangement any boy and girl, by spending a few minutes each evening at home, can complete any of their courses in Telegraphy, Byrne Simplified Shorthand and Typewriting, Byrne Practical Bookkeeping, Business Administration and Finance, Penmanship, Lettering, Salesmanship and Radio. The correspondence department, of this school has grown to be very popular because the courses are found to be interesting from the very start.

This school goes so far as to guarantee to refund every cent of tuition at the completion of any course if it is not as recommended. The fact that no one has ever asked for this refund is evidence that their courses are what you should have to insure your future success.

ADVANTAGES OF COURSE BY MAIL.

A correspondence course costs less than one sixth of the amount required to attend school in person. You are permitted to remain at home and "Earn while You Learn," as well as "Learn while you pay." Instead of going to the school, the school comes to you. A standard-make typewriter is furnished you right in your home if you take the Shorthand course. At any time during the study of the course by mail you are permitted to enter the school in person without paying additional tuition.

Anyone who will mail the coupon below bearing the name and address will be sent a large free catalogue of 200 pages. The editor of this paper will be glad to arrange for your scholarship. Mail the coupon today.

Buick Open Cars are Stormtight

Perfect protection is provided from rain and wind. The lower frame of the windshield fits into a permanent rubber grommet. Moulded rubber seals every joint between the frames and posts. At the top a new weatherstrip, steel reinforced, excludes all air that might enter between the windshield and top, and side curtains button to the windshield, instead of the posts, covering the slight crack between them.

In addition to these and numerous other refinements, Buick four-wheel brakes afford a greater degree of safety on all models.
